

Welcome to the Montertelot town hall website

The commune of Montertelot, located on the banks of the river Oust (on the route of the Nantes-Brest canal and the Vélodyssée), offers a remarkable setting for green tourism: a place to take a break, a tourist crossroads where fishermen, hikers, cyclists, pleasure boaters and camper vans rub shoulders.

The quayside lawn is an ideal spot for picnics.

Montertelot is part of the Ploërmel community of communes.

Unusual accommodation
early April to late October book

Book and pay online.

The Domaine de l'Oustellerie, with its 4 wooden cabins, welcomes you from June to September. It's located near the Nantes-Brest canal, on the Vélodyssée route.

The cabins have been specially designed for cyclotourists by a local company, and can accommodate all types of hikers or simply people wishing to sleep in unusual accommodation.